Vertex offers a versatile suite of safety and medical services to ensure the well-being and proper treatment of your workforce. Our reliable team of medics use our well stocked medical transport and rescue vehicles to provide the best possible care in the event of an incident. With a fleet of first aid trailers, Vertex medical professionals can be housed on-site in our facilities or yours.

Through our diverse service offering, we offer our clients additional support by assisting and advising them on a comprehensive range of health and safety legislative requirements.
