

KCL SALES & SERVICE

Vertex is a proud seller and distributor of KCL Fluid. Serving Industrial and Commercial clients, Vertex works to build strong relationships with customers to help develop their long term business objectives. Available and distributed through our own fleet of fluid hauling units or through customer supplied units, Vertex ensures KCL fluid is available and delivered as required.

Our professional team is highly knowledgeable and strives to deliver KCL Fluid efficiently and effectively so that the most demanding schedules can be met.

Benefits

Production Enhancement

- KCL helps control clay swelling in the presence of water and helps minimize fines migration, which can decrease production levels
- KCL is compatible with most chemicals used for fracturing operations

Zonal Isolation Enhancement

- KCL helps control clay swelling in the presence of water and helps minimize fines migration
- KCL promotes a better bond between the cement and the formation
- KCL slightly accelerates slurry setting time

Vertex's modern fleet of Tanker & NGL units are capable of hauling virtually any fluid you require to be delivered or removed from site and we can meet the most demanding of schedules.
